

Worksheet Six (Fingerprint 2)

	Progression 1
	Progression 2

Examples from Bach Chorales

Example 1 (RM86, third phrase)

a) chords D:

b) harmonic feature:

- Label the last four chords in the box provided with Roman numerals.
- Precisely describe the chord and harmonic feature in the antepenultimate chord?

Example 2 (RM9, final phrase, slightly simplified)

a) chords G:

b) harmonic feature:

- Label the last four chords in the box provided with Roman numerals.
- Precisely describe the chord and harmonic feature in the antepenultimate chord?

Example 3 (RM153, final phrase)

a) chords D:

b) What type of melodic decoration is in the soprano

c) What does Bach do to the passing seventh in the tenor part on the penultimate chord and why?

d) A more usual bass line would move in crotchets at the beginning of the last bar. Imagine that the added A quaver down an octave in the penultimate beat were not present – what voice-leading problem would there be?

Example 4 (RM240, final phrase)

Answer the questions below but bear in mind that this is a more unusual example in a number of ways.

In what way is the soprano pattern different at the cadence?

What is missing between the last two chords compared to the other examples and why is it not possible here?

Exercises

1

Musical exercise 1: Treble clef, one flat (Bb). The melody consists of quarter notes G4, A4, Bb4, and a half note C5.

2

Musical exercise 2: Treble clef, one flat (Bb). The melody consists of quarter notes G4, A4, Bb4, and a half note C5.

3

Musical exercise 3: Treble clef, two flats (Bb, Eb). The melody consists of quarter notes G4, A4, Bb4, and a half note C5.

4

Musical exercise 4: Treble clef, one flat (Bb). The melody consists of quarter notes G4, A4, Bb4, and a half note C5.

5

Musical exercise 5: Treble clef, one flat (Bb). The melody consists of quarter notes G4, A4, Bb4, and a half note C5.

6

Musical exercise 6: Treble clef, two sharps (F#, C#). The melody consists of quarter notes G4, A4, B4, and a half note C5.

Common errorsGeneral comments and tips